History

Carroll County was created in 1837 from parts of Baltimore and Frederick Counties. The County was named for Charles Carroll of Carrollton. Carroll was a Marylander and the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence. He died in 1832 at the age of 95. During the American Civil War, the population of Carroll County was sharply divided between supporters of the Union and the Confederacy. In 1863, there were historic troop movements through the county as part of the Gettysburg campaign. On June 29, 1863, the cavalry battle of Corbit's Charge was fought in the streets of Westminster. This would later be recognized as a contributing factor in the eventual defeat of Robert E. Lee's army at Gettysburg.

Today

Carroll County is bordered on the north by the Mason-Dixon Line. The Patapsco River forms the southern border, and Liberty Reservoir forms part of the eastern border. Carroll County is bordered on the west by the Monocacy River and Sam's Creek. Carroll has 8 incorporated municipalities: Taneytown, Hampstead, Manchester, Mount Airy, New Windsor, Sykesville, Union Bridge, and Westminster, which is the County Seat.

Carroll County is located within the Baltimore Metropolitan Area, which is the nation's 20th largest market, with over 2.6 million people. Located in the heart of the Mid-Atlantic on the east coast, the Baltimore Metropolitan Area also includes: Baltimore City, Anne Arundel County, Baltimore County, Harford County, Howard County and Queen Anne's County.

The Carroll County Seal

The Carroll County Seal was provided for in the minutes of the Commissioners of Tax for Carroll County on June 5, 1837, and became the county's official seal on July 1, 1977. The seal consists of "three concentric circles, with the inscription 'Carroll County Maryland' inserted between the inner and middle circles also having two stylized six-leaved blossoms located, one each, on opposite sides of the same space between the inner and middle circle, also within the inner circle is a replica of the four-horse freight wagon with the year 1837 imposed above the wagon." When legislation was enacted effective July 1, 1977, there was no mention of colors for the seal, although the colors used are red, white, blue and brown.

Attractions

Carroll County Farm Museum

The Carroll County Farm Museum presents rural life as it was in the 19th Century. In addition to the main house, which was built in 1852, the 140-acre museum includes barns, a smokehouse, springhouse, blacksmith shop, craftsmen's workshops and exhibit areas that contain an abundance of early farm memorabilia. Farm animals add to the authenticity of the setting. Rental facilities are available for meetings, company picnics, family reunions, weddings, and receptions. For more information on the Farm Museum, refer to: <http://ccgovernment.carr.org/ccg/farmmus/default.asp>.

Historical Society of Carroll County

The Historical Society of Carroll County was founded in 1939 and owns three historic properties on East Main Street in Westminster, MD. The 1807 Sherman-Fisher-Shellman house is furnished to interpret the lives of the first owner, Jacob Sherman, and his family who lived in the house from 1807-1842. The adjacent Kimmey House is home to the Shriver-Weybright Gallery where exhibitions examine the history of Carroll County and its residents. Cockey's Tavern provides an expanded museum shop, public programming space and the tourist information center. For more information on the Historical Society of Carroll County, refer to:

Strawbridge Shrine

In the Wakefield Valley/New Windsor area of Carroll County, Robert Strawbridge formed the first Methodist class in America about 1763. Nearby, he built the first log meeting house. Although without official sanction, American Methodists first received Baptism and Holy Communion by his hand. The Strawbridge House was designated a National Methodist Shrine by the General Conference of 1940, and was purchased by the Strawbridge Shrine Association in 1973.

Today the Strawbridge House and farm, along with John Evans Meeting House Replica, are available for tours. For more information on the Strawbridge Shrine, refer to: <http://www.strawbridgeshrine.org>

Sykesville Colored Schoolhouse

The Sykesville Colored Schoolhouse was built between July and December 1903, at a cost of $530.50. Between January 1904 and May 1938 it was a one-room schoolhouse, managed by local community trustees, for children of the surrounding black community from both sides of the Patapsco River during the days of segregation. This historic schoolhouse has been restored and furnished to its 1904 appearance. For more information on the Sykesville Colored Schoolhouse, refer to: www.sykesville.net/school.html.

Sykesville Gate House Museum

The Sykesville Gate House Museum strives to interpret the abundant history of the Town of Sykesville and its surrounding communities through its collections, exhibits and special events. Historic home and architectural enthusiasts may opt to take the guided tour of the building's other purpose - home to

Springfield Hospital Center employees from 1904 until the late 1980s. For more information on the Sykesville Gate House Museum, refer to www.sykesville.net/gatehouse.html

Union Mills Homestead and Grist Mill

The Union Mills Homestead began in 1797 when David and Andrew Shriver purchased a large tract of land along the Big Pipe Creek. The site was perfect for the enterprises that the Shriver brothers hoped to start. The Big Pipe Creek provided an excellent source of water for a mill, the fertile valley was good farmland and the surrounding rolling hills contained heavy stands of black oak which could furnish tanbark for a tannery. Soon the brothers entered into a contract with Frederick County millwright, John Mong, to construct a set of mills, a grist mill and a saw mill. While the Grist Mill and Saw Mill were under construction, David and Andrew Shriver also started the main part of the house. To these early endeavors, the brothers added a tannery, cooper shop and a blacksmith's shop. Now David and Andrew truly had the beginning of an early industrial park. The growing enterprises soon took the name “Union Mills” because of the partnership of the two brothers and their various businesses. This is the same name that the small settlement that grew around the Homestead took. For more information on the Union Mills Homestead, refer to: www.unionmills.org.

Carroll Arts Center

The Carroll County Arts Council in partnership with the City of Westminster transformed this 1937 art deco Carroll Theatre into a multi-purpose community arts center. Opened in April of 2003, the renovated facility includes a 263-seat theatre, two well-equipped art classrooms and two large art galleries. The Carroll Arts Center offers a wealth of cultural opportunities including musical concerts, lectures, film, dramatic productions, art exhibits, classes and camps. For more information on the Carroll Arts Center, refer to: www.carr.org/arts.

Piney Run Park

Piney Run Park was opened in 1974, featuring a 300 acre lake as its centerpiece and provides multiple recreational activities such as fishing, boating, boat rentals and park sponsored fishing tournaments. The lake is surrounded by 550 acres of fields, forest and open spaces which contain over 5 miles of hiking trails, as well as tennis courts, playgrounds, climbing rock, picnic tables and comfort stations. The Piney Run Nature Center, Park Office and six pavilions, which are available to rent during our open season, are all located near the main entrance which is accessed off of White Rock Road. For more information on Piney Run Park, refer to <http://ccgovernment.carr.org/ccg/recpark/pineyrun/>.

Hashawha Environmental Center

Hashawha is located in northern Carroll County off Route 97 North. Facilities at Hashawha include an administration building with meeting rooms, a dining hall, and a boardwalk wetlands area. Bear Branch Nature Center is located next to Hashawha Environmental Center. This facility provides nature study and environmental education to all visitors. For more information on the Hashawha Environmental Center, refer to: <http://ccgovernment.carr.org/ccg/recpark/hashawha/default.asp>.

How Carroll County Government Operates

In Maryland, county governments may be organized as charter counties, code counties or non-home-rule counties. All act under limitations legislated by the State government. Carroll is a non-home-rule county governed by an elected three-member Board of County Commissioners where each member is allowed one vote and they elect their own officers. The Board exercises the powers conferred upon it by the General Assembly of Maryland, including authorization to issue debt to finance capital projects.

The County Commissioners are elected for four-year terms (non-presidential election years). All are elected by the entire County voting population. All County Commissioners must live within Carroll County.

Among the Commissioners' duties are: establishing policy, adopting the operating and capital budgets, setting the tax rate, levying and collecting taxes, appointing commissions and boards, approving ordinances and resolutions, and recommending legislation to the State Delegation. Positions at the cabinet level are appointed by the Board of Commissioners. These positions represent the top level of management for Carroll County who report directly to the Board. The Commissioners also appoint residents to various county advisory boards that make policy recommendations. In addition, the County Commissioners purchase and maintain County property, approve road construction and maintenance, and serve as the County's chief elected officials in dealing with other counties, the State and Federal governments.

The Board of County Commissioners approves the County operating and capital budgets after each agency submits its requests and after a series of public hearings have been conducted. The budget ordinance must be adopted before June 1.

Federal and State funds contribute a percentage of the cost of education, social services, health-related activities, aging programs, emergency services, agricultural extension services and various other programs.

Carroll County's eight incorporated municipalities function as autonomous units of local government. They are Hampstead, Manchester, Mt. Airy, New Windsor, Sykesville, Taneytown, Union Bridge and Westminster. The towns provide police protection and other vital services, and (with the exception of Hampstead and Sykesville) operate their own water and sewer systems. The municipalities derive operating revenues from water/sewer user fees, town taxes (rates are set by the councils under state guidelines), and fees for miscellaneous permits and assessments.

The Budget Process

The budget has several major purposes. It focuses the County's long-range plans and policies on services and programs, serves as a vehicle to communicate these plans to the public, details the costs of County services and programs, and outlines the revenues (taxes and fees) that support the County's services, including the rate of taxation for the coming fiscal year. Once the budget has been adopted by the Board of County Commissioners, it becomes a work plan of objectives to be accomplished during the next fiscal year.

Departments are accountable for budgetary control throughout the fiscal year. The Department of Management and Budget (DMB) examines expenditure patterns, compares the patterns to budget plans, and initiates corrective action, if necessary, during the fiscal year.

The budget development process begins with revenue projections for the County for the upcoming fiscal year and the following five years. These revenue estimates will determine how much money is available to provide government services, including education, public safety, public facilities, community services and other functions of government.

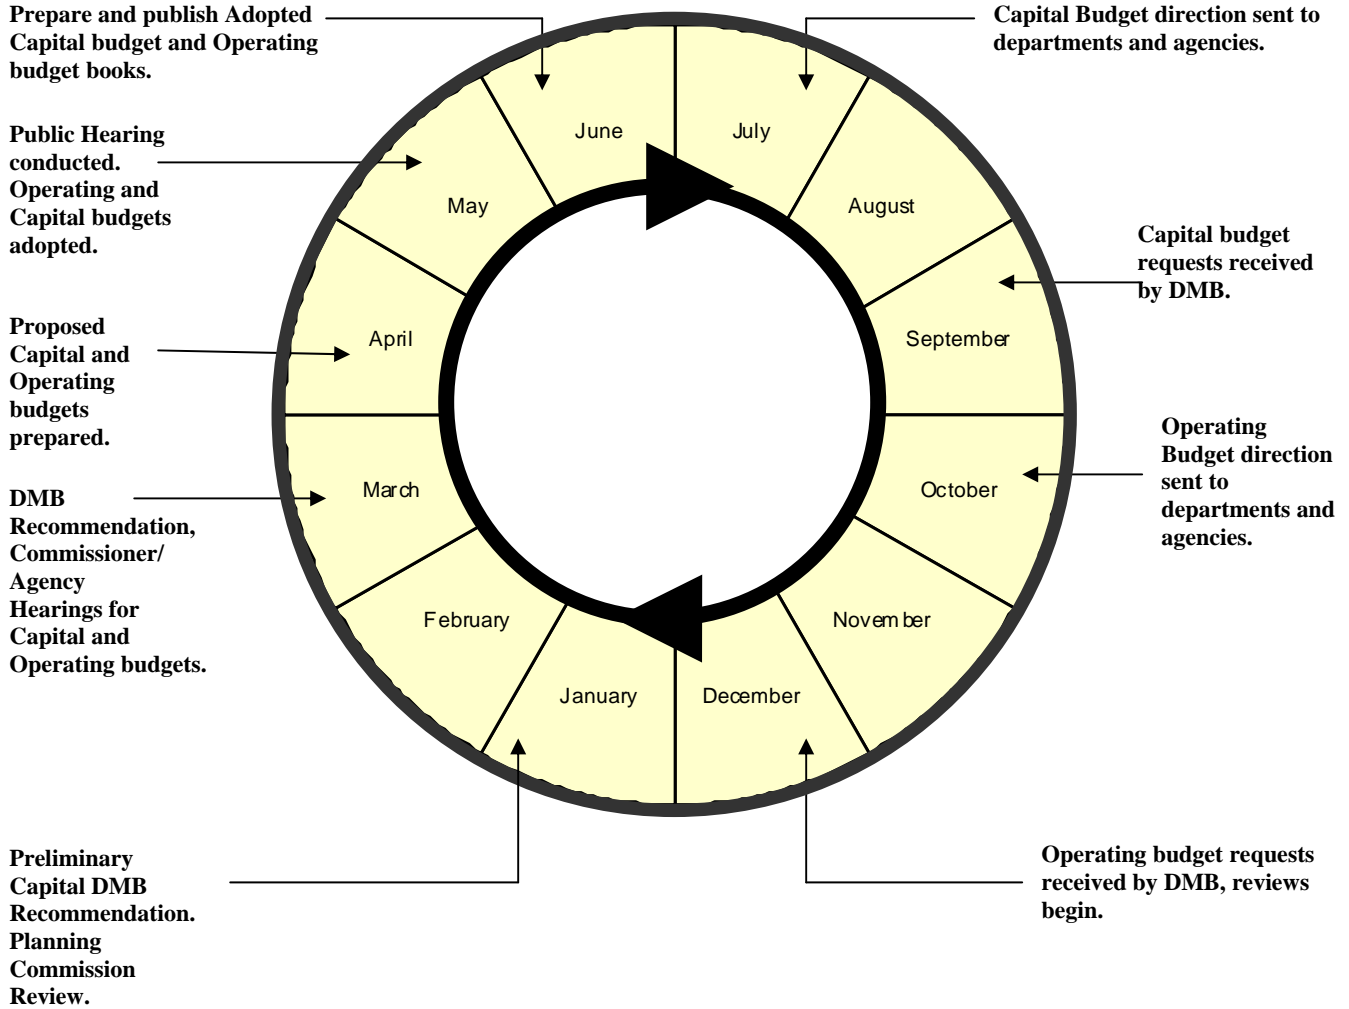

For the capital process, direction for preparation is sent out in July. Requests are then submitted in September to the budget office. The Department of Management and Budget then prepares the preliminary recommended capital budget for the ensuing fiscal year and the next five fiscal years to present to the Planning and Zoning Commission for review and recommendation. The Commissioners, with the assistance of the Budget office, consider these recommendations in developing their capital budget.

The operating process begins by sending out the budget package in October. Requests are submitted to the Budget office in December. In March, the Department of Management and Budget presents the recommended budget (Operating and Capital) and the agency hearings occur. Not later than sixty days prior to the end of the fiscal year, the County Commissioners announce their Proposed Budget for the ensuing fiscal year for public review and discussion. A public hearing is held in May on the Proposed Budget along with the current tax levy. A 10-day waiting period is held for public comment.

The Annual Budget and Appropriation Ordinance must be adopted on or before the first day of the last month of the fiscal year currently ending. After the budget is adopted, at least six copies of the detailed budget are reproduced to be kept available for public inspection. By the last day of June, each of the six libraries will contain the adopted operating and capital budget book.

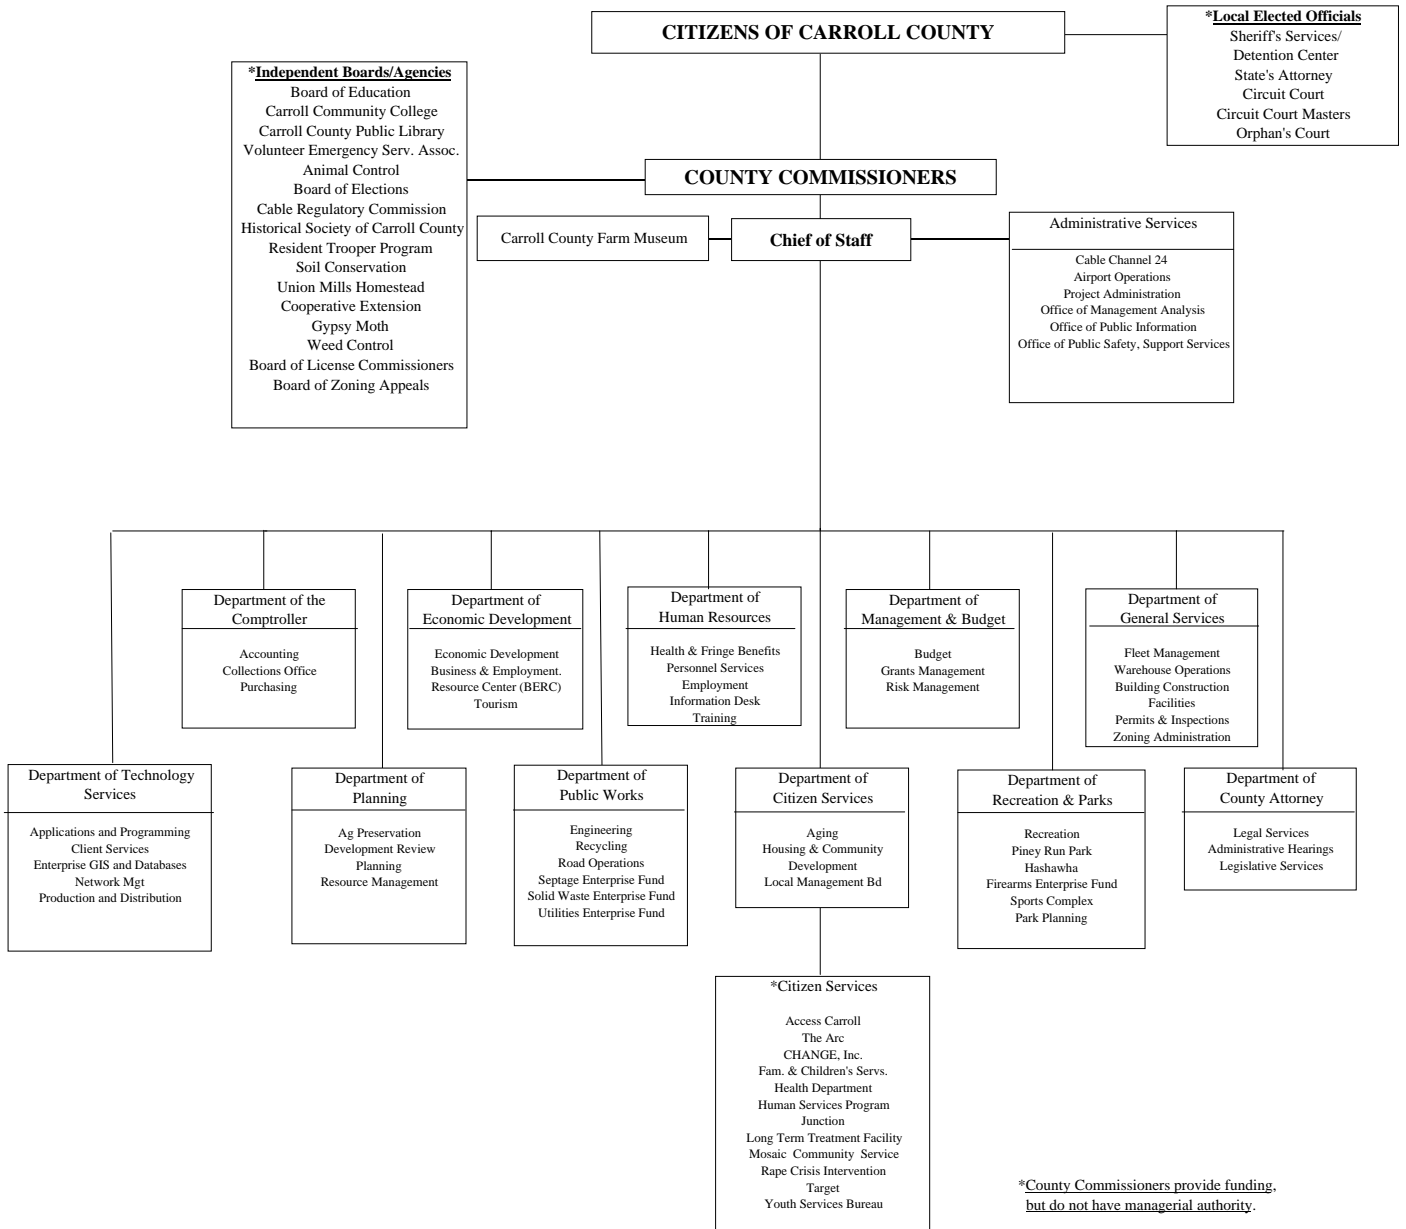

The Budget Process

The following diagram illustrates the budget phases which span the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Links to Other Planning Processes

Other County planning processes have an impact on how Carroll County Government develops operating and capital budgets. The planning process that has the most impact on the budget is the twenty year County Comprehensive Plan, or Master Plan. The Department of Planning is responsible for developing and implementing the County Master Plan. Community Investment Plan review, site selection, and land banking for future schools, roads, and other public facilities are administrative functions of the Department.

The Bureau of Comprehensive Planning is responsible for comprehensive, county-wide master planning. Land use plans are made and implemented working with the Carroll County Planning and Zoning Commission authorized under Article 66B. The several functions within the Bureau are designed to assure County projects and programs conform with the County Master Plan, that current and long-range County planning serve to implement the Plan, and that land use and policy decisions are in accordance with the Plan. Among the ways the Bureau fulfills this function are: water and sewer master planning, comprehensive plans for the County and incorporated towns, major street and road planning, and the town/county liaison planners.

Enterprise functions, such as water and sewer, solid waste management, and airport operations also develop long-term plans for handling future growth projections. Other planning functions include commercial/industrial building design expectations, land preservation, parks, and hazard mitigation.

Mission
 The mission of the Accounting Bureau is to ensure that the financial data maintained for the County is accurate in all material aspects and fairly represents the County's financial position and its operational results. The Bureau ensures taxpayers and citizens that their tax dollars are being managed in a prudent and appropriate manner, and in accordance with all applicable laws. Finally, the Accounting Bureau is responsible for maintaining an internal control structure designed to protect County assets from loss, theft or misuse and providing requested information for co-workers and citizens.

Goals include:

- Continue to achieve excellence in financial reporting
- Maintain and enhance the internal control structure that protects County assets
- Continually provide timely and accurate financial data as requested from other departments and citizens
- Ensure the County's financial records and statements are in compliance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB), and best practices as recommended by the Government Finance Officers Associations (GFOA)

Description
 The Bureau of Accounting is responsible for the administration of all County funds, and its actions are monitored by the Comptroller. Some financial operations and functions include:

- Cash management and investment portfolios
- Payment of all County obligations
- Payment of all County employees on a bi-weekly basis
- Billing for water, sewer, septage, and solid waste services
- Maintaining separate records for the General Fund, Enterprise Funds, Special Revenue Funds, Fiduciary Funds, Grants, Capital, Internal Service and Debt Service.
- Working with external auditors during interim and annual audits
- Preparing the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) and numerous Federal and State reports, including the State Uniform Financial Report

Program Highlights
 For FY 07, the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) received the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting from the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA). This marks twenty-three consecutive years the award has been received.
