Hashawha to host sweet celebration of maple sugar

January 14, 2010 - Hashawha Environmental Center and the Department of Recreation and Parks will host the annual Maple Sugarin' Festival from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, March 7. The festival features a brunch of maple syrup on pancakes ($4 per person) which is available all day, maple syrup demonstrations with tastings, and craft vendors (weather permitting). Food is available for purchase, including maple pit beef and other maple items. There will be an indoor children's activity area offering crafts, games, and face painting. A variety of programs also will be offered, which may include birds of prey, reptiles, and amphibians. Living history programs will take place at the Martin log cabin.

The cost of admission is $5 per vehicle. No pets are allowed. The main festival is held outdoors so please dress for the weather. Hashawha Environmental Center is located at 300 John Owings Road, Westminster, MD 21158. For additional information or directions, call 410-386-3560. Hashawha Environmental Center is a facility of the Carroll County Department of Recreation and Parks.
